

MEZCAL MAYALEN

WILD CUPREATA

The Mezcal Wild Cupreata stands as our signature and most intricate variant. This type of agave is indigenous to the basin of the Balsas River, nestled in the towering mountains of Guerrero state in the southern regions of Mexico. This variety naturally proliferates on the mineral-rich slopes, optimal for mineral absorption, bestowing upon it a distinctive taste, locally known as maguey Papalote.

HANDMADE FOR YOU: ARTISANAL DETAILS

PRODUCTION VILLAGE	Sierra de Guerrero
ALTITUDE	3,900–5,250 feet
CLASS	Joven (Young)
AGAVE TYPE	Wild Cupreata Agave
PRODUCTION PROCESS	100% Handmade
COOKING PROCESS	Roasted Underground
TYPE OF MILL	Tahona Stone
FERMENTATION	Natural, in Wooden Barrels
DISTILLATE	Copper Still

TASTING NOTES

Features a citrus and mineral scent and exhibits a sleek texture when swirled in a glass, offering a mildly sweet taste, followed by a delicate hint of dark chocolate in the aftertaste.

GUERRERO

Wild Cupreata Agave

46.5% ALC./VOL. · 93 PROOF

